

Advisory on Phone Scams

The Supreme Court has been alerted that some members of public had received suspicious calls from persons claiming to be Court Officers summoning them to attend Court. For this, members of public were requested to provide their names and NRIC number to the callers.

Please be informed that our officers would not make such calls. Requests to attend court are done via post or email.

Members of public who receive such calls should:

- Be Vigilant. Supreme Court would not request to attend court through a telephone call. In such situations, you should ignore the call.
- Do not provide personal information such as your name, identification number, passport, bank account or credit card details.
- Do not transfer any money to the caller, either via remittance agencies, banks or any other means.

We take such incidents seriously as they undermine public trust in the courts. If you have information related to such incidents, call the Police hotline: 1800 255 0000. Please dial 999 only if you require urgent Police assistance.
